This route is a 50 mile paved road ride that connects 5 historic covered bridges in Southern Windsor County, including the Cornish-Windsor covered bridge which was built in 1866 and is the longest covered bridge in the United States. A good place to start and end the ride is Artisan's Park, in Windsor, a collective of 8 unique Vermont businesses including Harpoon Brewery. This route is best for the confident road cyclist looking to get a good sampling of road riding in Southern Windsor County. The rolling route parallels the Connecticut River, passes several small farms, and skirts the northern boundary of Mt. Ascutney before looping back to the town of Windsor.

Disclaimer

Notice to Bicyclists: This map and accompanying information is intended solely to assist bicyclists in their selection of facilities to ride on throughout Windsor County. In providing this information, Southern Windsor County Regional Planning Commission (SWCRPC) does not designate these facilities as formal bikeways. SWCRPC also does not assume liability for bicyclists who choose to travel upon any of the facilities shown on this map, nor does SWCRPC guarantee the stability, condition or fitness of any of the listed facilities for bicycling. Many of the facilities identified on this map cross and/or run on public roads that are exposed to daily wear and tear and degradation due to weather, motorized traffic and other environmental factors. Facilities may contain pavement imperfections, including ruts, cracks, and bumps. Riders may encounter expansion joints, debris, encroaching vegetation, stormwater inlets, and other natural and man-made features. Riders should also remain alert for areas of visual impairment and other irregularities that may impact rider and motorist ability to see each other or potential road hazards. The chance that one may come into an area of visual impairment or a route irregularity warrants special care on the part of route users. This map includes facilities within multiple jurisdictions. Conditions and design elements may vary between jurisdictions.

It is the responsibility of the individual rider to remain alert at all times as to the conditions of the facility, pedestrian and other traffic on the facility, and the inherent potential for conflict in any shared-use space. Riders should always ride with care for their own safety as well as the safety of all other users of the facility or right-of-way.
